Forecast for Saturday 01 Jun 2024

Weather: Some local mist patches are possible in the early hours, mainly in the valleys. This will clear to leave a dry and sunny morning. Cloud will increase from late morning, becoming largely cloudy in the afternoon. There is a small chance of a light shower developing out of any thicker cloud. Cloud will melt away in the evening to bring some late sunshine and a clear night.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 100%.

Low cloud and visibility: Summits cloud free. Very good visibility in general with distant hills and landmarks clear to see. Locally poor visibility in any mist patches first thing.
